

Love Your Moxie without Falling Flat on Your Face

Genevieve Piturro

TEDx Speaker • Author • Founder of Pajama Program

Genevieve's journey has taken her from an executive in New York's television world to a little girl's question in a homeless shelter to Oprah to boardrooms and stages across America. She was a successful marketing VP until a sudden inner voice challenged her direction and she dramatically altered the path of her life. In 2001, she jumped off the corporate ladder and founded the successful national organization, Pajama Program, now celebrating its 25th year. Genevieve then created Purpose ACER, a training program focused on management excellence and team building. She has written two award-winning books on leadership, and today inspires others to lead with love and be a voice that moves the world.

Most people considering a bold move don't think they have the courage and confidence to pull it off. Combining humor with audience engagement, Genevieve demonstrates how, if she can do it, anybody can!

Your audience will learn how to:

- Distinguish which of their inner voices to follow
- Make the first move boldly
- Find the courage to face fears and embrace all their emotions
- Identify the elements that will attract support and make an idea soar

Genevieve will show your members how to embrace their Moxie so they don't find themselves stuck in the same place 1 year, 5 years, or 10 years from now!

"If this is the next thirty years of your life, is this enough?" – Genevieve Piturro
